Principal's News

Welcome to the start of a new term. We have had a very smooth beginning and welcome a number of new families to the Tapping community.

Virtues

It can be quite a shock when your child starts to swear. You might be wondering where your child learned that kind of language – and whether he/she really understands what he/she's saying. How you react to your school-age child's swearing now will influence his/her future swearing behaviour.

Swearing: why do school-age children do it?

Young children often swear because they're exploring language. They might be testing a new word, perhaps to understand its meaning.

Parents and family members often role model this inappropriate behavior.

When school-age children swear, it's usually to vent some negative feelings. It's a response to something painful, upsetting or frustrating.

Children might also swear to fit in socially. They might be trying to be part of the group, or to stand out by being funny or adding shock value to their talk. Children might also be imitating others when they swear.

Some children swear because it gets a strong reaction from their parents.

What to do about swearing: immediate action

Speak to your child about his choice of words, rather than ignoring his/her behaviour. Your child might or might not fully understand a swear word's meaning. But school-age children do understand that words can hurt or offend others.

Your reaction will influence whether your child swears again. Stay calm and explain clearly that the word your child used is not acceptable. This will go a long way towards preventing future swearing.

What to do about swearing: the longer term

Do not use inappropriate language yourself. Most of children's behaviour comes from watching what you do, not from what you tell them to do.

Discuss what acceptable language in your home is. For example, you could say, 'Please speak politely', or 'There are some words we don't use in our home'.

Be aware of what your child watches and listens to. That means supervising and checking the ratings on TV, movies and other multimedia and music. Our child-friendly movie reviews can help you decide what movies and DVDs are suitable for your child. It's also a good idea to have the computer and TV in a part of the house where you can easily see them.

Your child will hear words out in public that you've said are unacceptable. It's good to be prepared for this situation. If your child asks you why somebody is using a bad word, you could talk about how people in different families have different rules.

P&C Meeting

The next meeting is this Tuesday 1 August in the staffroom.

All welcome.

Support your local school

We are excited to be taking part in the 2017 Woolworths Earn & Learn program.

From now until September 19th 2017, you can collect stickers at Woolworths that go towards Earn & Learn points. For every $10 you spend at Woolworths (excluding the purchase of tobacco, liquor and gift cards), you will receive a sticker. These stickers can then be given to your children to collect on a special sticker card.

Once it is completed, they can simply bring it back here to school or you can drop them into your local Woolworths collection box (Tapping's collection box is located at Carramar Woolworths) as well as at our school's front office.

We are grateful for your support and look forward to a successful program.
